TREWIDLAND PRIMARY & PRESCHOOL

NEWSLETTER 13.11.26

Dear Parents and Carers,

On Monday we welcomed members of the NSPCC into lead sessions with children in Y2, Y5 and Y6. The children were super at listening and asked great questions and remembered lots of information excellently. This was also noted by the NSPCC staff.

On Wednesday, the school gathered for 11am to join the two minutes silence. The children were all very respectful as they stood in silence. We have discussed the symbol of the red and purple poppies.

Massive shout out and thank you to all the children who used their SECRET skills to 'get involved' in our firework poster competition over half-term. Their superb posters are reminding everyone how to keep safe with fireworks and sparklers. They have been on display prominently for the last 2 weeks and look fantastic!

Thank you for your support for Children in Need - we'll let you know an update next week!

Next week, it is national anti-bullying week with the theme of break the silence. We will be raising awareness over the week. Please can everyone wear their odd socks to school on Monday!?

This month's online safety update highlights the importance of protecting children from online grooming, harmful online communities known as COM Networks, and manipulative content such as rage bait. Parents are encouraged to maintain open conversations about online activity, use parental controls and privacy settings, and be aware of warning signs such as secrecy, behavioural changes, anxiety, or unexpected gifts. Particular attention should be given to features such as WhatsApp Channels, which may expose children to unsuitable content. Regular communication and active supervision remain the most effective ways to help children stay safe online.

Have a lovely weekend.
